

Izu Shaboten (Cactus) Park

Shaboten (cactus) Hothouses

The entrance to the hothouses is through the belly of "Kogen-ryu," the dragon. The hothouses, five in total, contain a variety of cacti and fleshy plants from around the world.

Enter through the dragon: "Kogen-ryu!"

- Information desk
- Baby-nursing area
- Diaper-changing stand
- First-aid reception desk
- Public restroom
Women/Men
Wheelchair users
- Stairway
- Rental umbrella
- Souvenir shops

- Basic courses offering an easy hike. (Approx. 60 min.)
- Visitor-friendly courses with little difference in grade, recommended for people with wheelchairs or baby strollers.

- Shaboten-gari Kobo
Here you can buy potted cacti in any desired combination, selecting from over 160 varieties.
- Omiyage-kan (souvenir shop)
A diverse range of souvenirs - from local Izu specialties to the park's original goods - are available here.
- Restaurant area
- Gibon-tei (1F)
Barbecue; curry rice; hamburger steak; coffee and tea
- Hanamusubi (2F)
Soba noodles; udon noodles; tendon (rice topped with tempura); katsudon (rice topped with pork cutlet)
- Ciao (2F)
Ramen noodles; fried rice
- Cafe Shelley
(in front of Omiyage-kan)
Take-out fare; coffee and tea
- Bell Station
Take-out fare; rest area
*Each restaurant has its own regular holiday.

Kangaroo Hill

Passing through a tunnel, you will find yourself among families of western gray kangaroos and wallabies. Enjoy a close look at their intimate and happy lifestyle.

Wanderers

Squirrel monkeys and peafowls are free to wander about the park. Moving freely from one place to another, these wee beasties might suddenly pop out in front of you! Better keep your eyes peeled. Meanwhile, pelicans and adjutant storks can be found near the "Kogen-ryu" dragon. Various other animals are also enjoying free-and-easy lives within the park - can you spot them?

Bird Paradise

Stepping into a forest, rare birds of various kinds from around the world come into sight - some perched on branches and others resting in the shade. Still others may be on the wing, having a sing, or quacking away ...

Ancient Mexican Relics

These replicas of ancient relics are a present from the government of Mexico. The reproduced stone images invite you to the world of Mexico's ancient civilization. Charming small animals can also be found here.

Which animals will you come across today?

